The New Expedition.

Discovent" To BE USED.

We are informed that, Mr. G. Foster Statekhouse, F.R.G.S., Adder of the British Antocotic Expedition, 1914, yesterday acquired Captain Scott's old ship, the Discovery, from the Hudson's Bay Company, for the purposes, of the expeditional says, the "Daily "Telegraph or a recent date.

The Discovery was specially built by the Government for the Scott Expedition of 1963. Her timbers are oak and teak, and she has a specially strong, ironsheathed forefoot, while her engines of 500 h.p. can drive her at 910 knots. It will be remembered that the Discovery was frozen in the ice for three years, and that Scott's expedition was eventually relieved by the Morning and the Terra Nova. Captain Scott wanted her o for his last Polar expedition, but the Hudson's Day Company, by whom she had been purchased, were unable to release her in time, much to the great explorer's disappointment

For the past three years the stout old eraft has been haid up in the South West India Dock, where she has been thorough, Ty well looked after. She is a fire, roomy vessel, and the leader of next. year's expedition is to be congratulated on obtaining Captain Scott's ship for the purpose of completing his great work in South Polar regions.

Captain Scott and His Bible.

BISHOP OF LONDON'S STORY.

"It is power that we want," declared the Bishop of London, at the final of his three-day series of meetings in the Guildhall for City Men. He had read Captain Scott's letters before they were published. "I gave him," he said feelingly, the Bible and Prayer Book he took with thim on his first expedition, and when her returned-holding it up-he said in his humorous way, 'That's the swag for me.' His old mother's got them now." It needed power to diena natural death in the Antarctic. They had plenty of drugs. But we read, "We have decided to die a natural death," and so they died and raised the standard of manhood in the world all over.

His lordship spoke of an incident that occurred to him in his first curacy, and described it as " one of the most touching scenes I ever saw in my life." He had been up all night in a hospital, he said, with a little servant girl from the country, and at five o'clock in the morn-Too she died alone with him and the nurse. The mother had to be sent for, and when she came and saw her daugh. ter's body in the deadhouse, she said My little lamb, my little lamb,"-and gave a piercing shrick that he would never forget. "You ask yourselves." he continued. "what you would have said had you been in my position, a lad of 24. What would you have said if you had not received Divino comfort from shove to give her?"

The new buttleship Iron Duke comploted her eight hours full power trial on her passage from Plymouth to Spithead recently. The result was reported to have been very settisfactory, the contract speed being exceeded. The next day the Linh Duke carried out her circle trials, and went into Portemouth Har bout the following morning to prepare for her gunnery tests, which look place

LONDON'S PERSONALITY.

Heart Beats Felt in The Far East. The Heart of the World.

Sir William Soulsby, who was private secretary to a Lord Mayor before most Landoners of to-day were born, and has been private secretary to every- Lord Mayor since, has been doing a great service in trying to drive home to the Londoner that London has a personality," that London is unique-where-from it or Toronto, are merely Colonial, with [follows that Londoners must rank above all other men in the world.

- But Sir William stopped shorty or the London is not a city; London is not like smything elso in the world-merely because it is the very Heart of the World. | make them part of her wondrous self? To-day, to be a Londoner is equivalent to having been a Roman citizen of two thousand years ago.

The Personality of London—we ought to thank that doyen of private secretaries, that super-private secretary, for the phrase. London has a personality, she is a living thing, the most vast, most wonderful, and, perhaps, the most pathetie, thing which our civilisation has proruise-tariff barriers against us; but London remains all-essential to their trade. tion to untold millions.

THE IMPERIAL CITY.

. To-day how many Londoners realise the immensity of their privilege in bedenging to the Imperial City? Here and there you find a man who knows, one who has been behind the scenes, and understands the hollowness of the claims of other cities, other nations. In one short street alone, Mineing-lane, greater part of the trade of the Far East is handled, and the Far East has always been, from a trade point of view, the prize of the world.

The American boasts loudly-far too loudly, often-of his business ability; but it is in Mincing-lane, and not in New York, that his tos, his rubber, his sage four, all he requires from the Far East, is handled. The people of the United States buy up by far the larger portion of the Brazil crop of low-grade coffee. yet, though the bags of coffee beens never come near London, London firms do all the business. " Decadent! Effete! Out-of-date! The men who could answer those absurb charges levelled by Americans and Coicnials are too busy, supplying Americans and Colonials, to notice the childish assertions. London can afford to treat all her critics, with centernet.

plurase is a good one, and yet, somehow, I prefer to look on London merely as the Heart of the World, and to think of the lesser cities as places in which you can, perhaps, feel the heart beats.

There are about half a dozen such places, places right on the main track, after & General Election had returned where your hand is on the world's pulse, their authors to power, a bill based upon Of these, I think, I would put Hongkong them was introduced. first, the greatest of sesports, the finest jewel in the Imperial crown, the clearinghouse of half a world. . The attention that has recently been called once more to the attractions of that interesting and ploturesque bit of China hidden away in two or three obscure streets opinion the registers of securities and on the trings of the East London dock area has provoked the pertinent question of why opium making which is forbidden under heavy penalties in China itself (and for that matter in Australia and the United States), should be indulged in without let or hindrance in London and half a dozen other British ports. in In point of fact, the wholesale evasion of the Acts prescribing the conditions under which opium and kindred drugs may be bought or sold is a matter that calls for serious attention from the Pharmaceutical Society as well as the police anthorities. Among those in touch with the habiture of the Chinese quarters in such ports as Loudon and Liverpool, Cardiff and Glasgow, it is a matter of common knowledge that opium is bought and sold, to quote the words of an investigator, .. se if it wors so Hongrong, Feb. 3, 1915. much black treacle."

BUBBER ATROCITIES

(By the "Daily Telegraph's " Special · Cornespondent.):

MANCHESTER, Nov. 24. Cruelty and groad, murders and moggings, slavery and torture all these are embodied in the tale of horror to which I have just listened. The story was related quietly and unomotionally by a quiet and unemotional men, but its wory simplicity and directness probed the feelings. It was told in the sedate seelbalon of a suburban study, but it conjured up visions of tropical jungles, denst an treacherous, shrowded in a perpetual twilight.

This chronicle of alleged crime was narrated by Mr. J. F. Woodroffe. H it was who furnished the Anti-Slave and Aberigines" Protection Society with the account of the exploitation of the Indians of the Amazon in the interests of rubber enterprises, on which was based their report to the British Foreign Office with its appeal for Government protection, quotations from which appeared in to-day's "Daily Telegraph." WHAT "PEONIGE" MEANS.

A Manchoster man, Mr. Woodroffe went to the Amazon eight years ago as an administrative officer in the employment of an English rubber company, and he has been in the tropics till quite recently. During this period he travelled as a trader and in other capacities 415,000 through the vast areas traversed by the upper reaches of the Amazon and its affluences. For three years Mr. Wood roffe was in the Putumayo district. This fact gives authority to his allegations that the conditions in the Beni, Acre, and other areas are "worse than the Putumayo."

What is known as the pechage systems obtains in these districts, and as it is on this system that he bases his indictment, I asked Mr. Woodroffe to explain its working.

"Labour agents of the companies," he said. " are sent out into the villages in order to induce the Indians to join a party for the collection of rubber. Indian usually has certain petty debts which he wants to discharge, and the agent begins by making him a small advance of money. Then he is transferred from his home to the place of his dabours, which may be anything up to a thousand miles away. Whish he arrives he has no food and little clothing. These he has to purchase, together with tools and outfit necessary to enable. aim to collect his first parcel of rubber. "The cost of these things is charged against him to the amount very often of £100. What this means in its operation is that the Indian has sold himself.

"EIPLOITING A PROPLE!" "What it comes to is that the man is never able to get out of the company's debt. It is impossible. Even after the mitial advance for the necessaries of his work, every little thing he has is debited from 5s to 6s a day for his maintenance, of ill-treatment. and extra for medicine. On the other 31 PER CENT, per annum. Depositore BILLS NEGOTIATED & COLLECTED. hand, for the produce he delivers he is MAILS and TELEGRAPHIC REMIT | credited with only a third or a half of the price at which rubber is current in body and soul to the company.

"It is part of a thoroughly organised system of exploiting not savage, but a fairly intelligent people. They are in duced to leave their villages and are never able to return unless, when too filto work, they are sent back home to die. If an Indian wishes to leave the district in which he is working he can only do so by running wasy. Then he is pursued, and if caught threshed until his spirit is broken.

The latter will then pro- lying about ill near his house, he had tably come to some arrangement with them put on a rock in the rapids in midthe original employer, whereby he stream at seven o'clock one evening. assumes responsibility for the Indian's During the night the river rose, and the debt less a considerable discount. But following morning the five men were the poon is debited with an amount about gone, having been washed off the rock, 20 per cent. over the full sum of his debt. Therefore, although he has changed his master he is in a far worse posttion than before.

"Such," added Mr. Woodroffe, "is the peenage system. It is the system under which rubber is produced in the American forests. If that is not slavery, INDIANS MASSACRED.

Another allegation which Mr. Woodroffe makes is that of the wholesale munices of natives. These victime." to said, " are known as bravos . that

Following the game and fish; they trek from the bightness to the dowlands as the waters of the rivers fall in the dry season. Usually they move in small tribes or generations of a family, in parties? numbering from twenty-five to 250.

"When they reach the eres where rubber is being worked they are systematically persecuted. On their projence becoming known to the rubber exploiters armed parties are formed and the Indiana pursued. When evertaken, in the majurity of cases all the male braves are shop, whilst the children and others not able to offer any resistence are broughtinto settlements and become the saves of their centure. If one man obtains possession of any, three or four, he will probably keep one for his own service. and sell the others.

"As far as the male savages are concerned it is really a war of extermination against them. All this sort of thing is an everyday occurrence. I have met people who have actually taken part in the massacres." FLOGGING AND TORTURE.

That flogging and torturing take place is also alleged by Mr. Woodroffe. Re ferring to the latter, he said: "Sincethe Putumayo affair torture has been pratised in more refined forms; that is to say, in such ways as are not likely to leave tell-tale niter-effects. Instead for instance, of using the whip, the floggers employ a vegetable product called the tree beau. This is about 4ft long and is used when in its green state. Consequently, while causing great wales, it does not break the skin. This is one of the latest dodges. Then, too, a great deal of kicking is done. In more remote districts, however, where there is little risk of outside detection and interference, the whip is still used, and this for the most trivial offences, such as apparent laziness or disobedience of an overseer's

"These conditions apply not only to rubber exploiting but to agricultural work such as sugar planting and so on. In fact, wherever the Indians are employed, even in working cargoes on the rivers and in repairing buildings, the poonago system obtains." "As to torturing, Mr. Woodroffe gave me one or two cases which came within his personal notice. "I knew one Indian," he said, "little more than a boy, against him. If he is ill he is charged who lost one of his eyes as the result LEFT TO DIE.

"Another case was that of a depend ent of a Bolivian subject, who became a little obstreperous. His employer tied his hands believed his back with fine cords; so that circulation was stopped, and mortification set in. The Indian was sent to a company's hospital, where he underwent an operation that cost him one arm and part of the other. This happened in Brazilian territory. At first proceedings were instituted, but they same to nothing, and the whole thing was suppressed.

Another case that I have in my mind is that of a man in business on a river "Sometimes an escaping Indian falls called the Jacy Pearans. Dissatisfied at into the hands of another agent requir- the presence of five Indians who were and either drowned or esten by sliega.

Reverting to flogging, Mr. Woodroffe aid that both men and women were subjected to it. "Whipping," he said, "is part of the daily life of the country. Not only are men flogged for not bringing in a sufficient quantity of subbers of s but women, where they are employed in domestic work, are inhumanit besten. and for the most trivial faults and

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. " Disease spirits exist still. We call them Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhæa by removing the irritating cause. Be prepared for emergencies by armays keeping quite appreciated the applicability of this name when Dr. Jordan related how there was a kind of fish that leaned out of the water at the fishermen. fish had to be dynamited, and one actually jumped forth, to the fishermen's horror, with a dynamite cartridge in its stomach and suddenly emploded, "and they brought me a foot off its tail." Sir Bydney Colvin has also been giving some personal reminiscences of R. L. Stevenson, for 14 years the two men. were the closest friends. In June 1874 they were sharing a lodging at Hampstead; one morning Stevenson was craning out of the window watching something intently, and called him to watch it too. Down the road some children were skipping. No one cled would have given the scene a thought; but while it lasted Stovenson was entranced, and commented on it through all the granut of superintives. Sie Sydney remembered one occasion when Stevenson word a tail hat and trook cost as he walked with from Hampstead to the Royal Ace. demy. He could see him now carrying that hat in his hand because it chaird his head, and declaiming as he walked at the top of her voice in his strong Boottish accent. Milton a Paradise Lost know to be true, that recently, while the times have been changing and the passions of the people roused into fierce activity, many have made use of the corporate strength of the Society to which they have belonged to gratify their personal desire of revenge upon private enemies. Bogus charges have been brought against some private enemy. In this way it is more than likely that innocent lives have been sacrificed and harmless men made to suffer. This is indeed distinctly stated to have been the case, and officials are warned to take special care to discover that when charges are brought against private individuals that there is no personal motive at work, and, especially, no desire to take vengeance upon private enemies. It is also pointed out that often dis torted knowledge is disseminated amongst the members of certain Societies and that what is held by the members as truths, are not infrequently decidedly dubious state In this way much harm is doue. Hongkong v. United Services. This annual fixture, played on the Club ground on Christman Day and yesterday, Luzon moving N.W. or N.N.W. resulted in a win for the Services by the small margin of eighteen runs. Play was somewhat interfered with on the first day by thorain. Captain Matthews who put Sayer's bowling, was the principal contri buter to the Services "first innings score of 156. Hongkong, thanks largely to Pearce, who batted consistently for his 93, took a substantial lead, putting together 220, but on their second venture the Se vices improved considerably, passing the double century figures by two. LIGHTER FARE.

The mention of restaurants reminds that it is now the fashion to have lighter menus than of yore. Society has fully adopted the slighter fare, probably much to the benefit of its health, and what is more wonderful, the City has followed suit. The Lord Mayor's banquet this year Mr. Asquith, who probably preferred sponk to an alert assembly rather than an over-fed and drowey one, expressed his ROYALTY FOR MON.

The King of Spain has decided to send his son and heir to Eton. The irritation of the Spanish grandees when they hear of th's will be worth witnessing, but it will not ruffle the courageous young King or his English Queen. There are an increasing number of Roman Catholic boys sent to Eton, so presumably the priests do not look with disfavour on the school nowadays, but it involves a broadening of attitude and a freedom of thought that is thoroughly distasteful to the antiquated dames of high degree in Madrid.

UNIVERSITY SPORT. .It: is. rather unfortunate that the new rules passed by the Oxford University Athletic Club should have been issued so closely upon the aweeping victory of the Rhodes Scholars in the Freshmen's sports, for they thereby have an appearance of vindictiveness that was really absent from the minds of the framers. The consequence is that a good deal of sub-acid flavour has been imparted to correspondence that is appearing in the newspapers. University men generally do not approve the rules, in the light of this "tmosphere. In future, under these rules, no man who has been at any University previous to coming up to Oxford may compete in the Freshmen's of age may represent Oxford in the annual University, sports. It is true that the under advantages enjoyed by the Rhodes Scholars have been under consideration at Oxford for some time past, but the rules are held to be of her own home she prefers the dress of character of the Rhodes athletes. Some that the Japanese dress is warmer in wincorrespondents declars that description does tor and cooler in summer. Two large as it would be to bring definite proof are making a special effort to meet the such a thing, it is notorious that both demands of the ladies in this respect at Oxford and Cambridge there are certain to mention other stores where the calls for colleges which have "bought" with scholarships promising athletes from our own public schools, and certain facetious persons profess to be able to quote the price, say, of a prospective cricket 'blue.' as though he were so much stock. So far as I can H. V. Copicy Moyle and appropriate gather, Cambridge opinion has remained cold on the whole question, and now that Mr. G. C. Vassall has publicly announced that the O.U.A.C. rule do not apply to the int r university sports there is no reason why Cambridge should concern herself with domestic Oxford affair. In any case many Cambridge men have expressed the opinion that, provided the weight and the hammer were eliminated, they were quite prepared to battle against Oxford and her overseas allies. Whether, however, the matter i regarded as solely concerning Oxford or as iffecting Cambridge also, it is evident that the late Mr. W. T. Stead showed consider able prescience when he endeavoured to get Mr. Rhodes to alter the clauses in his will under which the scholarships were est blished."

But as the sporting writer in the "Observer" points out-"The first of the rules seems unnecessary, since the real University athlete does not really care in he wins a freshman's event or not. After all, such a victory will not affect his chance of a Blue later in the year, for the places in the University team for Queen's Club ire awarded on the results of the University sports and on general performance. will be remembered that earlier in the term no English public school boy, won a single event in the Frahmen's sports at Oxford. What, then, is more natural than that it should be generally stated that this resolution has been passed in order to keep out Rhodes scholars and make it easier for the English public school boy to win-t Sarely the English public school boy would rather win against all that is best than win when the most dangerous competitors have been removed from his path. This resolution would seem to suggest that Oxford is the University for the English boy only and not for the whole world. Oxford and Cambridge are the univer fluence on her choice of a religion. At ing the Government has, under instruct sities, not only for the public schools, the time when it was known that the This resolution may have been passed in order to encourage the English boy to take the greater interest in track athletics. (From Our Own Correspondent) --

EDINEURGH. December 2: BRITAIN AND CHUSAN. .

I learn on good authority, says th London correspondent of the "Glasgos Herald," that there is no truth in the statement that the Chinese Government ave sounded the British Government a to their willingness to accept the island Chusan in exchange for Wei-Hai Wei, which the Chinese are said to be desirous of using as a naval base. The offer of a lease of Chusan, which pronices to become a second Hongkong, might be tempting, but it has never been made. Chusan has already been three times in British occupation, and a convention negotiated at the Hague in 1846 provides that the island shall never ceded to any other foreign power, and it shall be protected from invasion by. Great Britain. This probably or-

TELLING TIME BY WIRELESS.

Watch and clock-makers anxious to reap the advantage of the international nignals wirelessed from the Liftel Tower. in Paris, and worddeich, in Germany, at certain dours of the day and night are incensed at the demand of the Post Office that they shall pay more for the privilege of using the necessary private; wireless installation than the thousand or so people who already hold licences as telegraphio experimenters.

Mr. F. Hope-Jones, Chairman of the Wireless Society of London, told a Daily News representative that when the watch and clock-makers applied for license for wireless installations, for which experimenters pay one guiness a year, the Post Office authorities intimated that, as the apparatus was to be used for a trade purpose, a royalty would have to be paid in addition to the licence fee.

No decision as to the amount of royalty had been arrived at, but the representative of the General Post Office asked applicants to deposit a fee of two guiness. Mr. Hope-Jones replied that, while clock-makers in other countries are permitted to listen to those time signals, a refusal in Great Britain unfairly handicaps business in the markets of the world. He also pointed out that the Post Office restriction would result in evasion of

If the signals were transmitted from the Greenwich Observatory, a small chargo to meet the expenses might be levied with some appearance of justificstion," added the Chairman of the Wireless Society of London, but unfortunately the British Empire elected to take no part in the organisation or transmission of the world's time manale Hence the proposal to tex those who desire to listen to them will sppear to the watch and clock-making profession of England as proposterous and as futilin es a tax on taking their time from the
